TEDDY'S CROWD HAVE A MEETING

And Organize the Bull
Moose Party.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS SMALL

But Affairs Moved Off Smoothly—Resolutions Unanimously Adopted.

TALKS BY THE BULL MOOSERS

A handful of Roosevelt Republicans (about 50 or 60) with a sprinkling of Taft men and Democrats, assembled in the court house here last Saturday at the organization of the alleged new Progressive party. Mr. Silas Stevens was selected chairman and Mr. W. R. Heddick secretary of the meeting. In taking the chair Mr. Stevens made a little talk in which he seemed to have awakened to the fact that the Republican party was being bossed by somebody within party ranks. He appointed a committee on resolutions as follows: Wm. Hamilton, Ernest Woodwrd, H. E. Brown, W. S. Tinsley and C. M. Barnett.

During the absence of the committee Judge Wedding was called upon for a speech and responded. He said the Democrats are still preaching free silver and that many Socialists and Democrats called on Roosevelt to run. President Taft, said Judge Wedding, has evidently become converted to the free trade idea. Judge Wedding thinks the voters should stand for the gold standard and a protective tariff, but inasmuch as the Taft wing of the Republican party is also committed to these principles, it was not clear under which banner the Judge would have them assemble. Judge Wedding thinks that the country is very prosperous now—the farmers getting high prices and everybody satisfied along industrial lines—but yet he is not satisfied with our present national administration and wants a change. He denounced the Chicago Republican convention as a piece of thievery.

The committee on resolutions then brought in their report, which was read by C. M. Barnett, who made a motion that it be adopted. Without being called upon for a speech, Mr. Barnett proceeded to address the crowd. He praised Roosevelt in a general way, which was quite a departure from his editorials of May 21, 1909, July 15, 1910, and even as late as December 1, 1911, in the latter of which he said: "Mount Roosevelt continues to show signs of eruption." In his editorial in the Hartford Republican of May 21, 1909, he referred to "the bombastic broadsides which President Roosevelt usually fired at Capitol Hill," and in his issue of July 15, 1910, referring to Col. Roosevelt's defense of the State primary law of New York, he said: "Mr. Roosevelt should have thought of this when two years ago, by the most shameless use of public patronage and Federal office-holders, he dictated the nomination for his successor to the Presidential chair."

Mr. Ernest Woodward was then called upon for a speech, and delivered a very logical talk. He said he would vote for either Eugene V. Debs or Woodrow Wilson in preference to Taft. Messrs. Ashford Mills, C. E. Smith, Dillies Ward and Henry Leach were then called upon in turn and responded with brief remarks. All the speakers declared their allegiance to Teddy Roosevelt and his propaganda and bespoke victory for the Third Party movement. Mr. Mills made no speech, but said he endorsed the meeting and its proceedings. Mr. Smith spoke at some length in like vein and said there is no hope for the re-election of President Taft. Mr. Ward spoke for equal rights and free government. He said the Chicago affair was a misrepresentative convention. Mr. Leach said he had never been heartily for Taft. Said Teddy gave the people a good administration, which of course included the panic which occurred under Roosevelt's rule. There were several Taft adherents present, but they were not called upon to give their views.

The resolutions, which were a wholesale endorsement of Col.

Roosevelt and his political career, were then voted upon and adopted without a dissenting voice. Mr. W. S. Tinsley offered an amendment, which embraced the appointment of a committee on organization, which was also adopted. The meeting was a quiet one and there was no discussion of any kind. At the conclusion of the final adoption of the resolutions and amendment, the meeting adjourned.

"IF YOU DO NOT FIRST SUCCEED," TRY ANOTHER

The Owensboro Messenger of Thursday says:

Apparently not the least worried when told that it would be necessary for him to secure a permit from the parent of the girl he stated he wanted to marry, and whom he said was but seventeen years of age, Pleasant Tucker left the office of the County Clerk a few moments after the office was opened for business, telling the clerk to have the license and a Magistrate ready at 10 o'clock, as he would return at that hour with the girl and the permit from her parents which would authorize the clerk to issue the license.

The day passed without either man or maid appearing at the office, but shortly before the office closed on Tuesday evening, Tucker again appeared on the scene, accompanied by Mrs. Sallie Veech, whose appearance clearly indicated that her seventeenth year had passed long ago and was now but a memory, and who stated that she had been married twice before. Tucker secured a license to marry Mrs. Veech and the ceremony was performed within a short time.

THE COMPULSORY SCHOOL LAW WILL BE ENFORCED

The new compulsory school law passed at the recent session of the Legislature provides that parents shall be responsible for their children. This law will be rigidly enforced from now on.

The law provides that all children between the ages of 7 and 13 shall attend school regularly of a warrant will be sworn out against his or her parents or guardian, and they shall be brought before the County Court and tried. The penalty is a fine of not less than $5, nor more than $50, with or without imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

During recent years the law has been very loose and a very large number of pupils have been out of school. Under this law it is expected that there will be a full attendance at all times.

MAN JUMPS FROM TRAIN AND SWIMS HANDCUFFED

Paducah, Ky., July 27.—While Sheriff George Honser was taking Louis Blakeslee, alias Blakesley, to the penitentiary at Eddyville the prisoner leaped from the train near Kuttawa and tried to swim across the Cumberland river. Although the prisoner was handcuffed, he made good progress in the water, and but for the assistance of a man in a skiff, probably would have escaped. Blakeslee was brought back to land and taken to the penitentiary in a buggy.

Blakeslee, with William C. Johnson, both strike breakers at the Illinois Central shops, were arrested on the charge of breaking into the store of Roy L. Culley & Co. and stealing about $500 worth of clothing and gents' furnishings. Blakeslee confessed and exonerated Johnson. The latter is out on bond.

DAVIESS COUNTY WOMAN KILLED IN A RUNAWAY

Henderson, Ky., July 26.—Mrs. Joseph Trusty, aged about thirty, was killed here to-day in a runaway. She was driving along in a buggy drawn by a mule. The animal became frightened and ran off.

Her husband and his sister were in the buggy at the time and the latter jumped, sustaining slight bruises.

Mrs. Trusty attempted to jump while the mule was going at full speed and fell, striking her head. She only lived a few hours. The accident occurred just above town. Her husband is a well known farmer.

Majority Leader Underwood, of Alabama, served notice in the House that in future he would oppose the granting of permission to any member to absent himself to attend to private matters.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.

The Hartford Herald has received notice from the Third Assistant Postmaster General that we must comply with the new postal regulations in regard to subscriptions more than one year in arrears. There are several who have not paid during the past year and we are now compelled to comply with the ruling. During the past year we have made a special effort to get these old accounts collected up, and most of them have responded, but there are a good many who have not responded to our request. If you want us to continue The Herald when in arrears more than one year, you must notify us in writing to that effect, otherwise we must take your name off the list if more than one year in arrears. With us it is not a question of extending your credit, but a question of complying with the U. S. Postal regulations. Any name taken off does not release the person from their obligation to pay their back subscriptions, so the Post-Office Department rules. This, of course, applies to all subscribers, regardless of financial standing, and we do earnestly appeal to those who are more than a year in arrears to call at The Herald office at once and settle or remit by mail the amount due. The label on your paper will show where you are paid to. Please consult that now and be governed accordingly. We do not want to lose a single one of our subscribers, but your prompt attention is very necessary if you wish The Herald to continue its weekly visit. When a subscription is discontinued, one notice will be sent to the subscriber and if a prompt response is not received, we will necessarily have to place all such accounts in the hands of a collecting agency, who will take charge of the adjustment of same. Please be prompt. Best plan is to pay in advance.

WOMEN OF THE NATION WILL RAISE THE FUNDS

For Wilson and Marshal Cam- paign—Popular Contribu- tions Are Solicited,

Washington, July 29.—Democratic women all over the United States are going to do their share toward raising the Democratic fund to be used in the coming Presidential campaign.

The Woman's National Democratic League is to start at once filling the war chests in a way that only women can do. From every hamlet money is expected to roll into the treasury to further the candidacy of the Governor of New Jersey.

"Mr. Wilson will not have to follow precedent and pay campaign expenses from donations of the trusts," said Miss Katherine Dabney, founder of the league and district vice president. Miss Dabney's statement explains the stand the Democratic women are going to take.

"Our money will come from the people. In every State of the union our league will swell the campaign fund through its local organization. The money will be raised by entertainments, solicitations and contributions. It will be raised by political conviction, not privilege hunting," said Miss Dabney.

Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby, wife of Judge Crosby, of New York, has appointed various officers to the national board. Among these, Mrs. Clarence Watson, wife of the Senator from West Virginia, was appointed chairman of the ways and means committee, and Mrs. Thomas P. Gore, wife of the Oklahoma Senator, chairman of the press committee.

Mrs. Crosby organized one of the biggest women's Democratic clubs in the country in New York seven years ago. Miss Dabney, a well known Washington artist, conceived the idea of the organization. She has had the active assistance of the most prominent women of Washington. Mrs. Stephen H. Ayres, wife of the Congressman from New York, and Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the Speaker of the House, were among her earliest helpers.

JENNETTS.

July 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Pearson McDowell visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. — Range, near Rosine, Saturday and Sunday.

School will begin at Bennett's August 12, under the management of Miss Mabel Porter.

Those who are on the sick list are Mr. Joe Laws, Miss Nora Daniel and Miss Jeanie McDowell.

Miss Winnie Range, who is teaching at Edwards, visited her parents near Rosine Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. Burton will fill his regular appointment at Hamlin next Sunday.

Miss Madie Stewart, who is teaching at Victory, visited her parents near Rosine, Saturday and Sunday.

Notice.

Don't let your cows fail in their usual output of butter, but get a can of Wabash Fly Chaser and Sprayer and it's good-bye fly. Get them from Ohio County Drug Co.

had a narrow escape from death by lightning yesterday afternoon. The young woman was picking up apples under a tree when the tree was struck by lightning. The bolt struck the girl on the back of the head, ran down her body and tore her right shoe off her foot, but did not burn it. She was unconscious for several hours, but after being treated by a physician rallied and is recovering.

A lightning bolt also struck the brick residence of Claude Foster, tearing out one end of the building, but not injuring any of the family.

THE END COMES TO JAPAN'S NOTED EMPEROR

Tokio, July 30.—The emperor of Japan died at 12:43 this morning, and Crown Prince Yoshihito has succeeded to the throne.

Acute nephritis is given as the cause of his death. His majesty had been unconscious since Monday morning. From that hour respiration became continually more feeble.

Vast crowds, which congregated for days outside the park surrounding the palace, remained until the end in hushed silence.

The emperor passed away in the presence of members of the imperial family and assembled ministers of state. The crown prince, overcome by the sad event, remained at the palace in consultation with the ministers of state, arranging the funeral and to conduct the state affairs.

Yoshihito was born in 1872 and ascended the throne of Japan in 1897. At that time the power of the emperor was snared and he held in seclusion, his power being entirely spiritual, the government resting in the hands of the nobles. In 1898 occurred a revolution. The government became representative and the mikado a power. He intermingled with his subjects and became very popular because of his progressive ideas. Under his rule Japan's advance was marvelous. He and his consort, a woman who adapted herself to European civilization, set the example for the court not only in dress but in the customs of Europe and America. They make Japan a world power.

During his reign Yoshihito showed himself a wise ruler and a marked espiability for government. The crown prince was educated according to Western ideas. He is Yoshihito, thirty-three years of age, and now ascends to the throne. He is an admiral and a hero of the Russo-Japanese war and is said to have inherited the ability of his father.

ATTEMPTED TO HIRE NEGRESS TO KILL WIFE

ADABURG.

July 26.—Miss Zoda Raymon is visiting Miss Maymee Shown, near Hartford.

Mr. John Raymon was in Hartford Wednesday.

The women preachers have moved to the Adaburg church and are now conducting meetings there.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Frooman, the 16th, a fine boy. Mother and babe doing nicely.

The real grader has passed here and we are glad to say the roads are much better.

Miss Oda Raymon will leave Saturday for Knottsville, where she will assign subjects to her graduates and prepare for commencement exercises to be held in August.

GOVERNMENT AGAIN HARD RUN AS TO FUNDS

Washington, July 27.—An unprecedented situation confronts the United States treasury, which is practically without funds to pay the transportation on the millions in currency now piled in its vaults and for which there is a crying demand throughout the country. The condition is due to the fact that with the exception of $69 all the allowance for expressage authorized by the congressional resolution has been consumed.

With Taft as President.

The Seven Governors are now only one or two; a fact which would justify Colonel Roosevelt in starting a Judes Club.—[St. Louis Times.]

Pay Your Taxes.

Taxes for year 1912 are now due and we are ready to receive same.

CONVENTIONS OF "BULL MOOSERS"

Were Held in Many Counties of Kentucky.

CALEB POWERS IS DENOUNCED

And Strong Resolutions Also Adopted Condemning
Senator Bradley.

MOUNTAINEERS TURNED OUT

Louisville, Ky., July 27.—Conventions were held in about two-thirds of the counties in Kentucky to-day in which much enthusiasm was shown for the "Bull Moose" leader. While not predicting that Kentucky will be added to the list of States which will be carried by Col. Roosevelt in the November election, the members of the Progressive party state that he will receive a greater number of votes than President Taft.

Reports from the mountain section of the State show that the conventions there were largely attended and the feeling against President Taft, Senator W. O. Bradley and Congressman Caleb Powers, was voted in resolutions.

In the Eleventh district, according to reports received to-night there is a strong feeling against the administration and especially toward Congressman Powers. A Roosevelt candidate, it is said, will be chosen to make the race a contest Powers this fall. At Pineville, a similar resolution centered against Bradley was adopted. His work, the delegates declared, turned the tide toward President Taft. His "steam roller" accomplished the downfall of the Roosevelt hopes in Kentucky, they claimed.

Leslie Combs, former minister to Peru, who is the Roosevelt leader in Kentucky, was endorsed in several counties for the place of National committeeman from the State.

Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, was endorsed at Henderson for Vice President.

In Franklin county the delegates want a Southern man named for Vice President.

At Lexington, where the Roosevelt forces said that the Taft followers had planned to pack the convention and sow seeds of discord, they found everything to their liking and nothing marred the meeting.

Some surprise was expressed in various quarters at the attendance in several counties, but in many places crowds were attracted by the excitement and did not take part in the conventions.

WHY SHOULD GOVERNOR WILSON RESIGN NOW?

If Woodrow Wilson is elected President in November, his retirement from the Governorship of New Jersey will follow as a matter of course. But there is no call for his resignation now and no conflict of official interests or duties which dictate such a course.

Cleveland was Governor of New York when nominated in 1884 and held that office through the campaign. Garfield was a United States Senator-elect when nominated in 1880 and did not resign until after the election. Tilden was Governor of New York and Mayor of Ohio when nominated in 1876, and neither resigned before the election.

Governor Wilson is said to be undecided in the matter. He has no reason to be. Why should he resign? No sense of propriety can suggest it and precedent is uniformly against it.—[New York World.]

THE CO-OPERATIVE PLAN OF SELLING

Certainly Brings the Best and Surest Results.

APPEAL TO FARMING CLASSES

How it is Managed in Wisconsin—Details Must Be Attended To.

FARMING A BUSINESS MATTER

(W.J.Luethe in Wisconsin Farmer) The middleman increases the cost of an article and decreases the selling price. That is his only way of making a living. If it is to our interest to eliminate him as far as possible in buying an article, it is also to our interest to avoid him as far as possible in selling an article.

Acting in accordance with this principle, the farmers in the vicinity of Waupun, Wisconsin, organized the Waupun Co-operative Commission Company. This company is capitalized for $10,000 and is incorporated under the laws of Wisconsin. It operates a creamery, an elevator, ships its own live stock and recently opened a co-operative store.

This "farmers' union" has attracted much attention through its live-stock shipping operations. The middlemen (private shippers) in that community have, it is believed, organized in opposition to the farmers. Apparently there has been no competition between the various private shippers, for at least four have combined and contributed all profits to one account. Furthermore, it is claimed that the private stock buyers in Waupun and some of the neighboring towns and villages have organized a stock buyers' association and hold regular meetings to discuss methods of opposing the various farmers' shipping associations. The methods employed to counteract the success of the farmers' associations are in many cases very effective.

The private shippers have been able to cause much mistrust and lack of confidence among the farmers. Very often they have aimed to ship their stock at the same time that the farmers did. At such times they have competed by bidding high for live stock owned by farmers of the co-operative company, on the grounds that they would secure a higher selling price in Chicago than the representative of the farmers' association. This, however, is seldom true and nearly always they must figure on a loss which must be made up by underweighting or by catching this same farmer or other farmer at some future time when no comparisons can be made with a farmer's shipment. In this way they have sometimes succeeded in causing a mistrust and discontent among the farmers.

The Waupun Farmers' Shipping Association hires a manager whose only business it is to look after the interests of the farmers. He knows approximately through records kept by him, which farmers have live stock ready to ship at a certain time. Farmers outside of the association are also allowed to ship on the same terms as members and members are not compelled to ship through the association. The manager receives five cents per 100 pounds on shipments, which together with the transportation charges, etc., is borne proportionately by each farmer. By this method the farmers get exactly what their stock is worth at the central market, less actual expenses. They have received as much as $1.70 more clear profit than the local private shipper offered. The manager also serves as an information bureau and reports on request which farmers have calves, pigs, horses, etc., to sell. The farmers thus keep in close touch with one another through this central manager who acts as a very effective advertising medium.

The farmers on the whole are well satisfied with the work of the association. Sometimes it is almost impossible to get a car load together when only a few farmers have stock ready to ship. This difficulty is brought about because there are always some who insist upon occasionally trying the private shipper and thus disappoint the manager. If the association is large enough and the membership only through the association, then this difficulty would be avoided. A skillful manager with a large number of dependable farmers to draw upon, can always arrange it so that no one will suffer any inconvenience.

There are some commission men who do discriminate against shipments by co-operative companies in order to further the interest of their old patrons, the private shippers. But they can only delude the unwary and unbusinesslike manager. Farmers must send a representative with their shipments who knows the trick of the trade and who is well informed and acquainted with the business methods used. Such commission men who are known to discriminate against farmers should be boycotted. This will soon make them change their attitude. The number of such shipments is increasing rapidly every year and commission men who know their business see the significance of fair treatment in the future.

This co-operative movement is irresistible and cannot be suppressed, but it can be and is delayed very materially by farmers who will not understand it. It is growing slowly, but it is growing constantly. Farmers, it is generally admitted, are a hard class to organize. They continually hold back and mistrust. They do not realize that all other businesses are organized and that the farmers of older countries are very efficiently organized. They seem willing to be defrauded and deprived of their just profits for a little while longer.

The time has come when the farmer must be a business man. High-prices of land, labor and the cost of living affect him directly. He should not only produce more per acre and secure more and better live stock, but should sell his produce at the most profit to him. Selling only requires a few minutes, but in those few minutes the farmer determines for himself what his wages have been in the past. The power to buy and sell skilfully is fully as important to the farmer as the power to increase the yield per acre. These two things work hand in hand for the uplift of the farmer. To produce well and sell well means prosperity and prosperity means attractive country life, and attractive country life is the only means of keeping the younger generation on the farm.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unnatural looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time, serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

Both in the Same Boat.
A mission worker in New Orleans was visiting a reformatory near that city not long ago, when she observed among the inmates an old acquaintance, a negro lad, long thought to be a model of integrity. "Jim!" exclaimed the mission worker, "is it possible I find you here?"

"Yassum," blithely responded the backslidder. "I'se charged with stealin' a barrel of sweet potatoe."

The visitor sighed. "You, Jim?" she repeated. "I am surprised."

"Yassum," said Jim. "So was I, or I wouldn't be here." —[L'ppincott's.]

In the days of high cost of living, a medicine that gets a man up out of bed and able to work in a few days is a safe and valuable remedy. John Heath, Michigan Bar, Cal., says: "I had kidney and bladder trouble for nearly six years and was confined to my bed, unable to turn without help. Soon after I commenced using Foley Kidney Pills and was relieved at once." His example is worth following. Foley Kidney Pills will do for others just as much as they have done for John Heath. Try them. For sale by all dealers.

A Skilled Workman.

The foreman of a large ironworks was short of laborers one morning, and as a last resort went to an old tramp who was lying asleep beside one of the furnaces and roused him with the question:

"I say, my man, are you wanting work?"

"What kind of work?" asked the tramp.

"Can you do anything with a shovel?"

"Yes," replied the tramp, rubbing his eyes. "I could fry a piece of ham on it."

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President—Gov. Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey.
For Vice President—Gov. Thos. R. Marshall, of Indiana.

The bull moose and the elephant are still pawing the earth and glaring at each other.

We knew it was coming and really expected it sooner. Somebody having discovered that Woodrow Wilson has thirteen letters in his name,

From a Rooseveltian standpunkt, the list of "undesirable citizens" is probably composed mainly of those who signify their intention of voting for Taft.

If Republicans will vote the Democratic ticket as strongly and straightly on the fifth of next November as they now talk it, there will hardly be any limit to Gov. Wilson's majority.

It is said that a dangerous counterfeit $20 bank note is in circulation. If ye country editor should find a bill of that denomination in his pocketbook, he would certainly regard it with a suspicious eye.

Democrats of Ohio county should not forget that the Congressional primary comes off next Saturday. It will be conducted just like a regular election and the polls will close at four o'clock. Give Ben Johnson a handsome vote. He certainly deserves it.

It is reported that a Texas pastor sent a campaign contribution to President Taft with the request that his name be kept secret, claiming that "things given in secret reach heaven." The contribution that reaches heaven through political channels these days has certainly got a long road to travel.

It is a well deserved compliment to Hon. Ben Johnson that he has no opposition in his party in his present race for Congress. It shows that the people have confidence in him and believe that nobody else could do any better—probably not so well—in his place. He should be given a handsome endorsement vote next Saturday.

The Herald stands, ever and always, for a grander and better Hartford in every material way. We believe in the old town—in its people, its prestige and its possibilities. We believe in municipal progress and enlargement. There is nothing too good for the place and few things impossible which should come to a little city of its size and aspirations. Let us all stand together for anything that will help and improve this place we call "home."

We had expected to hear some ghost story, soon after the nomination of the Democratic ticket, about capital being timid and afraid to invest in big business, on account of it being Presidential year, &c., but this usual tale failed to get into circulation. Fact is, business men all over the country are hunting for money to invest, and they have the utmost confidence in the Democratic administration which now seems assured. There is nothing ominous in Democratic success.

Kentucky's compulsory school law will be rigidly enforced from now on, say the authorities, and it is a good move in the right direction. Many parents are too lax in the effort to educate their children

EXPLANATION DID NOT PACIFY TAFT

McHargue's Defense Was Unsatisfactory.

SO SAYS SENATOR BRADLEY

But Deposed Postmaster Says He Was Not Allowed To Be Heard.

COPY OF SCATHING EDITORIAL

Washington, July 26.—Lee B. McHargue, who was summarily removed as postmaster at London, Ky., was afforded an opportunity to defend himself from responsibility for a biting anti-Taft editorial in the Mountain Echo, a newspaper of which McHargue is manager, according to Senator Bradley, who today issued a statement vigorously supporting the President's course in decapitating McHargue's official head.

The Senator quotes the editorial, one of a series, which cut the President's friends to the quick, considering the circumstance that a Republican postmaster's name was published in the little paper as in decapitating McHargue's official head.

The Senator quotes the editorial, one of a series, which cut the President's friends to the quick, considering the circumstance that a Republican postmaster's name was published in the little paper as in decapitating McHargue's official head.

"London, Ky., July 27.—Replying to an interview from Senator Bradley in the Times of July 26, in regard to my summary dismissal as Postmaster at London, Ky., by President Taft, to that part of his (Bradley's) statement wherein he says that I was afforded an opportunity to defend myself, I want to make an emphatic denial, as I have never been afforded an opportunity to defend myself or be heard before or since my arbitrary dismissal. This statement was only given out to try to mislead the public and in a way cover up the gross injustice done in denying me a hearing."

Was Given No Opportunity to Defend Self.

A statement from Lee B. McHargue, the deposed postmaster of London, Ky., in answer to an interview with Senator Bradley, recently published in the Louisville Times, says:

THE PROBLEM OF MILK GROWN IN YOUR YARD

Notwithstanding vegetarians are being scoffed at and dubbed "cranks," more and more are coming into the field, and the cause is advancing at a rapid rate.

This is not so much due to the effort of vegetarians as it is the result of sociological conditions.

The surface of the earth is so changing, the population so increasing, that the raising of cattle for culinary purposes is each year becoming more of a problem.

Each year science gives us some new food element to replace the piece of roast flesh.

The latest announcement reveals that milk, butter and cheese can be made out of beans.

This milk-producing bean is a special variety, however—the Soja bean, a native of China.

A Chinese chemist has a factory in France working out the problem of milk from beans. He has succeeded in making from the Soja bean milk, a fine quality of butter and a highly delectable cheese.

The Chinese followed the arts, crafts and sciences which other nations to-day consider modern, thousands of years before Western civilization was dreamed of.

This skilled Chinese chemist has found out how the cow can convert the grass into milk and cream, and without this extraneous incumbrance. We may have our milk, our butter and cheese grown in our back garden without the annoyance of conditions unpleasant to the fastidious and refined.—[Vegetarian.

Great Weekly at a Low Price.

The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, a twelve-page paper recently transformed into the size and appearance of a daily, will be furnished in connection with the Hartford Herald at only $1.35 for the two papers. This price stands good on renewals for The Herald. The Weekly Enquirer is an ideal newspaper, containing a big variety of reading and is especially suited to the farming classes. It is Democratic and progressive. This is certainly a low price for a lot of good reading.

"The claim of Mr. McHargue that he was part owner of the paper, but that he and the other owners had

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

To the Tax-payers and Patrons of Hartford Graded School:

The destruction of your school building by the fire which occurred on the night of June 18, has brought us face to face with a serious situation. Your Board has found it almost impossible to secure suitable quarters to house the school during the coming term, which should begin September 2. At best it will be necessary to divide the school, placing the grades in one building and High School in another, each in quarters which, if secured, will be inadequate to comfortably accommodate the pupils and at high rentals. The insurance money amounting to $8,000, together with the sum of $1,722.93 which has been accumulated in the past three years for the purpose of installing a good heating plant, amounts in all to $9,722.93, which is the entire amount available for the construction and furnishing of a new building. This amount would not be enough to replace the old building without a heating plant and furnishings, which would cost at least $3,000. Then, when completed, you would have a building which would, even now, not furnish sufficient room to accommodate the school.

Hartford, which is the educational center of Ohio county, deserves and ought to have a modern well equipped school building to which it could invite every High School pupil in the county and from which it should not be compelled to turn away.

Your Board has made considerable inquiry, from which it is thoroughly convinced that a building which would meet the requirements, both present and future, can not be built for less than $15,000 and to this must be added from $3,000 to $4,000 for heating plant, seats, toilet rooms, blackboard and other equipment.

We have therefore ordered an election to be held Tuesday, August 6, under which the voters may empower us to issue bonds in a sum not exceeding $9,000. It is probably needless to say that being tax-payers ourselves, we do not favor issuing bonds for a larger amount than is absolutely necessary to construct a building to meet the requirements above set out.

If the entire amount of $9,000 is not needed in the construction of said building, bonds will not be sold above the amount needed.

Again, being tax-payers, we are not any more desirous of increasing the already heavy tax rate borne by our fellow citizens. An examination of the financial records of the Board for the past five years reveals the fact that the surplus arising from the present tax rate and tuition during that period has amounted to $3,021, over and above the running expenses of the school, during which time the salaries of all the grade teachers have been raised materially and one extra teacher employed. This is an average of a little over $600 per year. Of this amount $1,179.68 has been paid out for repairs of the old building, on an indebtedness arising from the purchase of a hot air furnace and piano, the purchase of an entire set of stoves, new blackboards, grading for pavement and for concrete steps. With a new building, none of this expense would be necessary for a period of at least ten years.

This surplus has been obtained notwithstanding the fact that for only three years has the tuition from outside sources been paid to the School Board in place of to the Principal. With modern building and up-to-date equipment, the surplus ought to exceed $600 per year and indeed with united effort on the part of all citizens to build up the school, it should be made to reach $800 or $1,000 per year.

In the light of the showing here made, we are firmly convinced that this surplus and the present tax rate, after the first year, can be made to take care of the bonds. It will not be in our power to levy an additional tax exceeding 25¢ per hundred nor will it be in our power to levy and collect a poll tax beyond the amount already authorized should the vote be favorable, and we are sure that a levy of 15 cents will be sufficient.

We pledge the tax-payers of the district that during our term as members of the Board we will do all in our power to keep down expenses to the actual needs of the school, and that every dollar of the surplus shall be applied to the payment of interest and principal of the bonds.

While this pledge will not be binding upon our successors, it is within the power of the people to elect members who will abide by it.

TRAGIC STORY OF OLD HOUSE

In Nelson County During Pioneer Days.

WAS SCENE OF BLOODY DEEDS
And Strange Suicides, Some Of Which Were Rather Unaccountable.

IS NOW CRUMBLING TO DECAY

On the turnpike leading to Louisville, about 15 miles north of Bardstown, there stood for years an old house that had an interesting history. The house was erected in 1791, many years before there was any pike through this part of the State, and was used as a tavern and a stepping place for the stage coaches when a change of horses was made. It had frequently for its guests such men as Henry Clay, Richard M. Johnson, John Rowan, Governor Chas. A. Wickliffe and many others of note. In the early twenties the inn passed into the hands of Capt. Jas. Camp, who continued to run it as a tavern. While living there, Camp's wife was riding horseback with several others and was thrown from her horse and killed. This was the beginning of many tragic happenings afterwards connected with the place.

A few years after this a traveler named John Reynolds stopped overnight at the inn. As he failed to appear the next morning, a servant was sent in search of him. Being unable to arouse him, he entered the room and found Reynolds stiff and cold in death. He had shot himself during the night. A few years later the old tavern became famous for its lavish style of entertainment. It was frequently the scene of great festivities.

During the progress of a ball one night a tragedy occurred which shocked the whole country for miles around. Two young men, Robert Harris and William North, were suitors for the hand of Capt. Camp's daughter. Harris, on account of wealth, social position and good looks, was the favored suitor, which so enraged North that he determined to seek revenge.

Harris, who was baldheaded, wore a wig. During the evening in question while the guests were dancing, North approached Harris, who was dancing with Miss Camp, snatched off his wig and threw it upon the floor. Harris uttered not a word, but quickly turned upon his heel, drew a Spanish dagger and plunged it to the hilt in the heart of North, who fell lifeless to the floor.

The tragic event brought the ball to a sudden close. Harris had the sympathy of the entire community, and public sentiment was so in his favor that he was never even arrested for the deed. The crime overshadowed his life. He never married, avoided women's society and became a recluse.

About a year later a stranger named Golson stopped at the old tavern for the night and was assigned to the room in which Reynolds had taken his life. A few hours after retiring, the report of a gun was heard and upon investigation it was found that Golson had shot himself through the heart. It was afterwards ascertained that Golson had lost heavily at cards in Louisville and becoming despondent, ended his life. He was a native of Nashville and was on his way to that place.

Other incidents of a tragic nature occurred at the old inn, and it was finally deserted and fell into decay. At this time only a few moss-covered stones and a heap of earth mark the place where the old building stood. The land surrounding it, however, is among the most fertile in Nelson county and is now the property of a wealthy citizen. —[Kentucky Standard.]

SEASONABLE NOTES.

To your Christmas shopping early.

Cranberries for the Thanksgiving table again promise to be plentiful and cheap.

The most intense cold ever recorded was 90.4 below zero, marked at Werchensansk, in Central Siberia.

If the steam does not come up promptly and properly into your apartments it is well to open completely for a moment or two the escape valve at the further top of the radiator.

When the sky seems particularly full of stars, according to an old weather saw, frost is likely. If the stars flicker against a dark background, it probably will snow.

In lack of snow with which to rub them, frozen fingers or toes may be treated with plain ice water.

Study of temperature for many years shows the seasons of to-day to be not materially different from those of former times. This dispels of the "old-fashioned winter."

The Thames river remained frozen over for nearly four months in 1682-1684.

Loose overcoats are warmer than very tight ones because they keep the warmth of the body from escaping while not interfering at all with the circulation.

QUEER DISTRIBUTION OF CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Washington, July 26.—J. A. Wolter and Representative Morris Sheppard, two Democratic Senatorial candidates in the Texas primaries, filed to-day statements disclosing an unusual distribution of campaign money.

"I paid to Morris Sheppard," says Mr. Wolter's statement, "$250 to be distributed by him for charity, in order to get him to meet me in just one joint debate on the tariff."

Mr. Sheppard admits he received the money.

"One hundred and twenty-five dollars," he says, "was sent to me by W. P. Lohman, to be given through the San Antonio temperance education bureau to a widow with 14 children, near Laveria, Tex., whose husband was killed in a saloon brawl and had left her in a desperate financial condition."

Mr. Sheppard says he gave the other $125 to the Star of Hope Mission to "help human wrecks," most of whom were the victims of liquor.

Foley Kidney Pills are healing, strengthening and tonic, and contain no harmful or habit-forming drugs. N. J. Gorham, Cashier Bank of Woodville, Woodville, Ga., recently had an acute attack of kidney trouble. "The pains in my back and kidneys were terrible, but I bought a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills and took them, and can truthfully say they have entirely relieved me. I find more benefit from them than from any other kidney medicine I have ever taken." Try them. Refuse any substitute. For sale by all dealers.

They Were.

Little Esie came into the kitchen with some eggs in a basket. "Mamma," she said, "our hens are getting awfully minded."

"Why, dear, what makes you think so?" asked her mother.

"Look here," said the little girl, holding up a soft-shell egg; "this is the third one this week that they forgot to put a shell on."

A lame back or shoulder puts a man on the retired list temporarily. The time will be short if BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT is rubbed in. It relaxes the muscles, relieves pain and restores strength and elasticity in the joints. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. HOW WE ELECT
OUR PRESIDENTS

And Vice Presidents, According to Law.

VOTE IS CAST FOR ELECTORS

Who Thus Become the Electoral College for Each Respective State.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION

The voters of the Union do not vote directly for President and Vice President.

Each State provides for the choosing of electors, and each State is entitled to elect one elector for each Congressional District in said State or for each Congressional Representative the State is entitled to, and also two electors at large from each State, and it is these electors that are voted for by the citizens of the respective States.

The candidates for electors are nominated under State laws in some States, and in other States under party rules or regulations.

State laws, or State party rules, cover the naming of the electors in every State in the Union.

The legal number of electors the State is entitled to, receiving the highest number of votes at the Presidential election in November, become the electors of the State and form the electoral college of the State. There is no law compelling the electors to vote for the candidates for President or Vice President who are named upon the ticket or tickets.

Article XII of the Federal Constitutional Amendments, declared in force September 26, 1804, provides as follows:

"First—The electors shall meet in their respective States and vote, by ballot, for President and Vice President, one of whom at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves.

"They shall name in their ballots the person voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as Vice President; and they shall make distinct lists of all voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice President, and of the number of votes for each; which lists they shall sign and certify and transmit sealed to the seat of the Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate.

"The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open the certificates and the votes shall then be counted.

"The person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest number not exceeding three, on the 1st of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the person having the greatest number of votes for Vice President.

"But in choosing the President the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice.

"And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the 4th day of March next following, then the Vice President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President.

"Second—The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice President shall be the Vice President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list the Senate shall choose the Vice President.

"A quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall necessarily to a choice.

"In case of the removal, death, resignation or inability of both the President and Vice President, the Presidential succession act, passed by the Forty-ninth Congress in 1886, provides that the Secretary of State shall act as President until the disability of the President or Vice President is removed, or a President is elected.

If there be no Secretary of State, then the Secretary of the Treasury shall act; and the order of succession is: Secretary of War, At-ney-General, Postmaster General, Secretary of the Navy and the Secretary of the Interior.

This act applies only to such cabinet officers as shall have been appointed by the consent of the Senate, and are eligible under the Constitution to the Presidency.

Upon taking office, the acting President must convene Congress, if it is not at that time in session, in extraordinary session, giving notice of 20 days.

The electoral colleges of the several States meets on the first Wednesday of December after the Presidential election.

The Congress meets in joint session to count the votes on the second Wednesday of the February following.

LOCAL OPTION ELECTION IN CHRISTIAN COUNTY

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 26.—Petitions are being circulated in Hopkinsville and Christian county for an election to be held on October 2, under the new county unit law. Prohibitionists are busy in every precinct. There are saloons at present only in Hopkinsville and Grayce. In this city there are twenty saloons and two wholesale houses, which pay $1,000 license each.

County Line Splits House.

Lexington, Ky., July 26.—L. D. Larney, a well known farmer, who recently leased a farm on the boundary line of Fayette and Bourbon counties, and through whose residence the county line passes, is in a quandary as to where to vote in this election—in Fayette or Bourbon county. His house is so situated that he eats in Fayette and sleeps in Bourbon. He is a Democrat.

Warning Cards.

The Kentucky law lately passed in regard to the abolition of the public drinking cup, requires that all stores, hotels, boarding houses, depots and other public places where drinking water is usually kept, shall keep a large card, with the law printed thereon, posted close by said drinking water. The Herald is prepared to furnish these cards at ten cents apiece, by mail or by hand. Better keep within the bounds of the law.

But He Must Support Sister,
From Whom She Will Not Be Separated.

New York, July 24.—David L. Hardenbrook, a Jamaican real estate man, who has undertaken the task of finding a mate for an elderly millionaire widower, friends now say, is the unhappiest man in Jamaica.

The advertisement he inserted in one of the New York dailies a few days ago, and the publicity given in the press all over the country, have brought to Mr. Hardenbrook's office an ever-increasing number of letters.

He has received letters in five different languages, and says he will hire interpreters. Many of the letter writers inclosed photographs of themselves or locks of hair to prove they are blondes.

One of the most unique letters that Mr. Hardenbrook received came late yesterday afternoon.

It was from twins in New York City and read as follows:

"Dear Mr. Hardenbrook—if your friend is not suited yet, as he might be, as I did not see your ad until to-day, would like to make our statement. We are twins, 20 years old, very loving, sweet dispositions, blonde hair, blue eyes, perfect thirty-sixes, so you know we have some shapes. Hope you take one of us. Of course you know you would have to support the two of us, as we cannot be separated.

"We will make his fireside pleasant. And I forgot to state we were highly educated, as you can see by this letter. Hoping you will answer this letter, as we want the man and not the money. Yours, Misses B. and D."

For soreness of the muscles, whether induced by violent exercise or injury, there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

DEADLY SOAP EXPOSED

BY A HEALTH OFFICIAL

Boston, July 26.—In a warning against soap as a carrier of virulent germs and a menace to the public health, Dr. John J. Mullowney, of the Boston Board of Health, said to-day:

"I believe that common soap, particularly the sort of soap that is used for the washing of utensils which are food containers, is a carrier of micro-organisms which are a menace to health.

No animal soap should be used in cleaning milk cans or other receptacles for food.

"In my experience in the West, where much of the soap used in America is made, I found that all of the diseased animals which were condemned by the Government Inspectors in the big packing houses were used in the manufacture of soap, which is a by-product of the meat industry.

"There is danger in the indiscriminate use of toilet soaps in public places. It is true that members of a family as well as the employees of large establishments accumulate a remarkable collection of micro-organisms in their various occupations and transmit them to the lone bar of soap and thence to those who use it subsequently."

HERBINE
Is a Powerful Chilli Tonic and Liver Regulator.

It puts the liver in healthy, vigorous condition and cures the chills by destroying the disease germs which infect the system. Herbine is a fine anti-periodic medicine, more effective than the syrupy mixtures that sicken the stomach; because it not only kills the disease germs, but acts effectively in the liver, stomach and bowels, thus putting the system in condition to successfully resist the natural third or seventh day return of the chill. Herbine is a cleansing and invigorating medicine for the whole body.

THREE DAUGHTERS OF PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE

Of Marriageable Ages, Will Constitute Quite a Big White House Attraction.

If Woodrow Wilson is elected President, the White House will be in all probability something of a matrimonial center for Washington. Friends of the family declare that there will be three marriages at the national residence within the next Presidential term. For Governor Wilson has three beautiful and highly accomplished daughters, already looked upon with more than favor by men who hope they are eligible. The girls, in spite of all their accomplishments in fields of art and education, partake generously of their mother's special charm, which is domestic and social. The initial aim in all their early and mature training has been that of their mother. They resemble her vividly. And their marriages will almost certainly come within the next four years. Miss Margaret, who is 26 years of age, prepared for the Women's College at Baltimore and entered the class of 1907. She left this famous school when ready to enter the junior class, having discovered that singing was her natural vocation. She is preparing herself for concert work and will continue her studies in New York. She has studied already at the Peabody Institute, Baltimore, and elsewhere. Miss Margaret is very fond of athletic sports. She plays tennis, golf, basketball and even baseball when the time is propitious. Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, who is 24, is of a more serious turn of mind. She is a member of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association. She graduated from the Woman's College, Baltimore, with the class of 1908, with honors, and spent the first two years after graduation in settlement work at Kensington, Philadelphia. Some venture that Miss Jessie is the prettiest of the three wholesome, healthy sisters, and it is certain that she has as quick wit as any member of the family. Miss Eleanor, who is 22, is plain "Nell" to the family and intimate friends, and is not a college woman. After her early training under a governess she attended St. Mary's school at Raleigh, N. C. She has inherited her mother's talent for painting and attended the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia.
